WEEKLY REPORT FROM MAYOR MOSES

To the Citizens of the Town of Appomattox:

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone again for their fine cooperation toward our Fall Clean-Up Campaign.

In the event anyone in the corporate limits has a vacant lot that they would like to have burned, please contact Mr. Hunter or our fire chief, Mr. W. E. Hancock.

I certainly hope that all of the children as well as the adults had a fine time Hallowe'en night, and I want to congratulate them on their good behavior and protection of property.

It has been called to my attention in the past week that some people have water meters that are leaking. In the event this is true in your case, please see that the Town Manager is notified immediately, so that he can check and repair same.

Your cooperation and assistance in parking properly on Main Street will certainly be appreciated, for we are trying to do everything we can to help this situation.

Our Town Policeman, Mr. Strode Burks, has asked me to plead with everyone to drive more carefully, and obey our traffic laws, I feel sure that everybody will give Mr. Burks the cooperation he is asking for.

Let's all continue with our diligent efforts to clean and beautify our town. Be sure that no one else will have to pick up any paper that you have dropped.

Sincerely,
C. T. Moses, Jr., Mayor.

WANT CONTESTANTS FOR OLD - TIME MUSIC CONTEST

Contestants are needed for the Old Time Fiddlers' Contest, as well as other types of country music, which will be held at the Appomattox High School auditorium on Friday, Nov. 22, at 8:00 P. M.

Any Appomattox County resident who has talent in the country music field is invited to compete for one of the many prizes being offered by the Appomattox County Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the contest. First prize will be $25 cash; second prize will be $15 cash, and third prize will be $10 cash. Every entry will receive a prize. There will be door prizes for the oldest man in the audience, the oldest woman, the largest family present, and many more. This promises to be the most entertainment Appomattox has had in one package in many years, so if you want to enter, see any member of the Jaycees, Mr. Oscar Rutledge, or Mr. E. T. Mitchell. Proceeds from this project will be used by the Jaycees in their Christmas Good Will Projects.

Mrs. Martin Was Hostess

Mrs. R. K. Martin was hostess on the evening of October 30, at a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Rasolie Fore, whose marriage to Lt. George Glass took place on November 2. Those present, in addition to the honoree included Mrs. Ernest Harwood, Mrs. Frank Irving, Mrs. R. W. Covington, Mrs. Jennie Young, Mrs. J. H. Chernault, Mrs. E. A. Covington, Mrs. E. N. Pleasants, Mrs. Otis Gilliam, Mrs. William Hix, Mrs. J. W. Hix, Mrs. Marvin Glover, Mrs. Henry Covington, Mrs. R. E. Fore, Sr., Mrs. Walker Young, Mrs. R. E. Fore, Jr., and Misses Lizzie Young, Iva Young, Patricia Covington and Mary Wilson McClenny.

BEEF CATTLE PRICES AT IMPROVED LEVEL

The price picture is looking brighter for beef cattle producers than it has for quite some time, says C. C. Mast, animal husbandman at VPI.

The early prospects were dampened somewhat by the fact that many areas were short of feed, but the cattle demand and market has risen as the season progressed, particularly on calves. Yearling feeder cattle sold at satisfactory prices even though many of them had to go to different places than they did in former years. The market generally has held from 17 to 22½c, depending on quality, with a few rare instances where a higher top was made.

There has been no shortage of buyers for calves. More buyers have come from the corn belt than ever before, and bidding has been strong at all special feeder calf sales in Virginia. With heifer calves selling from 18 to 23c and sometimes as high as 24c, and steers bringing 22 to 28c, the cowherd man has been happy.

Strong demand for Virginia's calves has been influenced by several factors—the high price of calves in the range country, and a reduced calf crop. A good crop of feed in the corn belt also has held up demand.

Many farmers keeping cow herds have been thinking of switching to yearling steer production. There is naturally a good bit of changing over when one class of cattle sells consistently higher for two or three years. However, the cow herd is now in a sound position. It has been said that for the past 20 years the national calf crop has averaged 24 calves per 100 people. The rate is now below average and is declining. In view of this situation, the man keeping beef cows should be in the saddle for the next several years.

However, there are many Virginia farms where yearling steer production fits better than any other type of cattle production. For instance, small farms or those farms which only have enough forage or grass for 15 to 20 head of cattle will likely do better with feeder steers than with a cow herd. Sometimes large outfits seem to do better producing yearling steers than cows simply because they have high quality feed and good grass but are short of labor and just find steers more agreeable to keep.

Someone must produce the calves and with cow numbers falling it might not be the right time to switch if you have a good cow herd established. The yearling steer business has been good and there definitely is a place for it in Virginia, but "think carefully and go slow before changing from one type of production to another."
